BACKGROUND

Transactional Law, Regulatory Compliance, Real Estate & Litigation.
Palmer Richardson is an experienced professional with expertise in compliance, real estate, labor relations, and civil law. He is a solutions-oriented legal professional who can provide strategic advice in a regulatory environment and deliver results. Palmer specializes in real estate transactions, small business consultation, entity formation, and estate planning.

Palmer actively engages in the legal defense of the City of Trenton, NJ under the direction of the City Attorney. His areas of focus include defense litigation (primarily in the areas of tortious injury and general civil liability); employee investigations; public contract law, and Section 1983-related cases.

Prior to joining Davis Legal Group, Palmer served as a Director of Corporate Compliance and Regulatory Affairs. During that time, he developed operational policies and procedures to ensure compliance with state and federal mandates, negotiated a wide array of contracts including vendor agreements, and developed contract templates for use in vendor acquisition and risk mitigation.

Additionally, Palmer has provided counsel and advice to business leaders on various issues to mitigate risk and achieve results.

Palmer is an active member in community leadership roles for various organizations, including:

- Board Member, Cross Community Inc*., Secretary* (Current)
